ELECTRIC AGGREGATION LETTERS ARRIVING TODAY

ROCKFORD – July 18, 2012- The City of Rockford is reminding residents and small businesses to check their mailboxes today and the remainder of the week for a mailing from the City’s selected electric aggregation supplier, FirstEnergy Solutions.

The letter will arrive in a plain white envelope, with an Akron, Ohio return address. The letter provides information on the two-year agreement the City has negotiated on behalf of residents, including pricing, terms and conditions, and instructions on opting out of the program if desired. Residents and small business owners are automatically enrolled in the City’s aggregation program and will receive the aggregation rate unless proactively opting out.

Again, to remind residents and businesses, FirstEnergy Solutions will not be calling individual customers to collect personal information, nor will they solicit door-to-door. The only communication regarding enrollment from FirstEnergy Solutions will be in the form of this letter.
